KENT ADULT EDUCATION

Taster sessions take place on Tuesday, November 9

GUITAR/UKULELE

Lots of us have a guitar collecting dust at home, so why not rekindle your interest and learn how to play it? Our tutor Frank Kerntiff will teach you the basic techniques needed to play your guitar (or ukulele). In this three-hour session from 6.15pm to 9.15pm, you will learn to play some simple chords and how to play a simple chord progression. You will be able to strum along to a backing track introducing one chord at a time — the perfect way to learn — and you will be able to perform a short, easy piece for guitar ensemble. This taster is perfect for complete beginners and costs £30. To book, call 0845 606 5606 and quote course code: 7020 BRO-10-E

INDIAN COOKERY

It's Britain's favourite food, so why not learn how to cook it yourselves at home? In this two-hour course from 7pm to 9pm you will learn how to cook traditional Indian food. Using the kitchen facilities at Ellington and Hereson, chef Raushan Rahman will guide you through the principles of Indian cooking learnt over years guiding her restaurant Ramsgate Tandoori. This is perfect for anyone interested in cookery and costs £20. To book, call 0845 606 5606 and quote course code: 4072 BRO-10-C

DIGITAL PHOTOGRAPHY

Get to grips with your digital camera in this two-hour course with tutor Leonard Whybrow. Leonard will cover the basic concepts of digital imaging, the pixel and graphic file formats, choosing and using a scanner, and show you how to master the features, memory cards and card readers. You will also learn how to save, print and manipulate your digital image files. A working knowledge of Microsoft Windows is essential. Two hours tuition from 7pm to 9pm costs £20. To book, call 0845 606 5606 and quote course code: 4024 BRO-10-C.

FENCING

Fencing is a fun, exciting sport which will feature in the upcoming London 2012 Olympic Games. So if you fancy a way to relieve some stress, get to grips with a sword and keep your body and mind active, then give fencing a go with our tutor Christian Burwash. It's suitable for any age and will teach you how to improve your speed, skill and dexterity. Two hours of tuition from 7pm to 9pm costs £20. To book, call 0845 606 5606 and quote course code: 6046 BRO-10-C.
